

Daniel Hurrell

Award-winning Art Director | Branding Designer | Graphic Designer

07976 807931

Both director and designer with a strong brand approach, I can originate, direct and oversee effective brand identities and campaigns across multiple channels and platforms. Strategically led, I'm driven, curious, collaborative, inventive and above all enthusiastic and passionate about good design - from concept to delivery.

I like to keep my hands dirty and I'm still an active and collaborative creative - rather than just over seeing the work. Over the years, I've picked up the odd award (some very odd) and had the opportunity to lead several creative departments. This has involved the mentoring of creative teams and individuals, as well as the day-to-day running of effective creative projects.
